We wanted to bring ewes that represent the kind we are trying to raise and the direction our flock is heading. We have focused on building our flock around top end Forsee Genetics and you will find that in these two. The mother of this ewe lamb, who just happened to be the Reserve Jr. Champion Ewe at the All-American a few years back, is a June daughter out of our Original Forsee Ewe — a Willwerth R2132 daughter who also raised a class winner at NAILE last fall. This ewe lamb is straight from our show flock and will make a great yearling ewe to add to yours for next year. Show Rights Reserved.

This Forsee R15-261 daughter is dammed by Drew's Futurity Ewe that finished 9th in the placing in '15. She had a late born set of ewe lambs that continue to impress. We love her style and balance and hate to let her go, but as this is our first time consigning in the Stars Sale we wanted to bring elite females. It has been a couple of years since we have consigned to the Stars of Louisville sale. We have been saving this one for a big stage and the 2017 Star of Louisville Sale is it. Her sire needs no introduction. He has sired countless winners for Maddox Southdowns and now A&M Ranch in both market lamb and breeding sheep rings across the country. This ewe's dam is our top Mayhem daughter. She was Res. Senior Champion Ewe at the 2015 NAILE. Mayhem is the Bedlam that worked well for Shanks Genetics. This ewe will be the kind of memory you will want to take home from Louisville. Look for pictures of this ewe as well as her parents on our Facebook page or on our website at www.aandmranch.com.
